RelyOn Nutec
360° Safety

OBSRDL017

Major Accident Hazards

Duration	45 Minutes
Target group	Oil & Gas Industry
Prerequisites	No prerequisites are required to sit this course.
Objective	LO1: Describe the types of work that are carried out on offshore installations LO2: List the different legislative framework for offshore work LO3: Explain which major accident hazards are present while in hostile and remote offshore environments LO4: Explain the basics of the safety case LO5: Describe the safety critical elements in a safety case LO6: Understand the employee's responsibilities with regards to the safety case LO7: Describe asset integrity and its divisions LO8: Explain the employer and employee asset integrity responsibilities
Contents	The course is available in the following languages: English; Norwegian; Turkish The course is suitable for all members of staff working in hazardous environments in the oil and gas industry. It covers the potential for major accidents and the types of hazards that might cause these to happen.
Exam	The assessment is taken during the course and is within the expected duration.