

LEEA Slinger Banksman

Duration	2 Days
Target group	On and offshore personnel involved in the signalling of cranes and slinging of loads.
Prerequisites	In order to attend this course, delegates must have knowledge of the environment in which the participant performs his or her duties.
Objective	The LEEA Slinger & Banksman training course is perfect for on and offshore personnel. For instance, individuals involved with the signalling of cranes and slinging of loads will benefit from this course. Moreover, you will enhance your skills in order to carry out tasks in a safe and correct manner.
Contents	"•Applicable legislation in addition to applicable codes of practice. •Attaching accessories to different loads. •Communications through the safe use of radios. •Documentation and certification for lifting equipment and lifting accessories. •Down rating of accessories. •Establishing load weight and centre of gravity. •Lifting accessories as well as types of accessories and use. •Proximity hazards. •Roles and responsibilities of personnel involved during lifting operations. •Selecting lifting accessories. •Signalling during lifting, transferring and positioning of loads. •Sling angles as well as Slinging techniques. •Understanding and also completing lift plans. •Lastly, verifying documentation and certification"
Exam	During this course, you will also undergo a written and continual practical assessment. Delegates will receive a LEEA accreditation upon completion of this training.