

LBS800

DGUV PSAgA Fortbildung

Duration 1 Day

Target group Persons who are intended to work in antennas, antenna masts and wind turbines with a height of more than 15 meters.

Prerequisites valid G41 medical Rescue at Heights Basic or Refresher not older than 1 Year

Objective After ending the course, the delegates must be:

- Familiar with the contingency plan and CE / EN marking important
- Familiar with the ATS rules for use of personal protective equipment,
- The ability to customize personal protective equipment correctly
- The ability to climb and move in the heights in a safe and sound manner
- The ability to fill the control charts and conduct inspections using the personal protective equipment and rescue equipment,
- The ability to perform personal rescue from antenna masts and wind turbines, etc.
using rescue equipment

Contents

- Fall Energy and accident statistics,
- CE Marking and European standards for personal protective equipment,
- Rules and responsibilities for inspection / maintenance,
- Manuals and control cards
- Review of contingency plan
- Operation of hoist equipment,
- Practical exercises in hoisting of distress and self-evacuation,

Exam None, but all course elements must be completed with satisfaction for handing out certificate.