

Course code	IBSRDL640
Course name	Drug and Alcohol Awareness (OSHA)
Duration	20 Minutes
Target group	Oil & Gas Industry
Prerequisites	No prerequisites are required to sit this course.
Objective	LO1: Explain the hazards and consequences of substance abuse LO2: Identify different types of addictive substance LO3: Describe the importance of a drug and alcohol policy LO4: Describe the purpose of an Employee Assistance Program LO5: Explain inappropriate usage and how to respond to it
Contents	The Occupational Safety and Health Administration is an agency of the United States Department of Labour. In this course you will learn about the hazards and consequences of drug and alcohol abuse. You will be able to identify different types of addictive substances and the importance of a drug and alcohol policy. You will be able to describe the purpose of an Employee Assistance Program (EAP) and how to respond to inappropriate usage.
Exam	The assessment is taken during the course and is within the expected duration.