

Environmental Awareness

Duration 45 minutes

Target group Oil & Gas Industry

Prerequisites No prerequisites are required to sit this course.

Objective

- LO1: Describe in general terms how the industry can affect the environment.
- LO2: Describe the different ways in which the industry impacts the atmosphere and the control measures used to limit these impacts.
- LO3: Describe the different ways in which the industry impacts the sea and the control measures used to limit these impacts.
- LO4: Describe the effects of chemicals on the environment and the control measures in place to minimise these effects.
- LO5: Describe the impacts and control measures of waste production
- LO6: Describe the impacts and control measures of oils spills
- LO7: Describe how businesses can measure their environmental impact
- LO8: Explain the difference between the way onshore and offshore practices affect the environment

Contents

The course is available in the following languages: English; Bahasa Malay; Indonesian; Thai; Turkish; Spanish.

This course will give you an understanding of how oil and gas activities can have an impact on the environment and the typical measures used to minimise these impacts. You will also learn about the environmental legal requirements of upstream oil and gas companies.

Exam

The assessment is taken during the course and is within the expected duration.