

Course code	PBSRDL005
Course name	Human Factors
Duration	30 Minutes
Target group	Oil & Gas Industry (Onshore & Offshore)
Prerequisites	No prerequisites are required to sit this course.
Objective	LO1: Define what is meant by the term 'human factors' and how they can affect human performance in the workplace LO2: Identify the areas of risk associated with human factors LO3: Describe the potential causes of stress and fatigue and recognise the symptoms in yourself and others LO4: Explain the importance of competence in human factors LO5: Summarise the role human factors play in good design LO6: Summarise how organisational change can impact human factors LO7: Explain why good communication is essential in managing human factors LO8: Explain the key steps to mitigating risk associated with human factors
Contents	To provide an overview of human factors in the workplace and the impact these factors can have on the day-to-day situations that occur.
Exam	The assessment is taken during the course and is within the expected duration.