

OSPMY093

Loss Prevention System

Duration	5 and 1/2 days
Target group	HSE personnel, managers, supervisors and employee representatives within the oil and gas industry.
Prerequisites	Proficiency in written and spoken English is required for this course. Some prior working experience in the Oil&Gas industry is recommended.
Objective	During the course delegates will gain the required knowledge and understanding that focuses on operational process safety. The course is intended to enable candidates to apply and implement effective process safety management.
Contents	Hazards inherent in oil and gas Risk management techniques used in the oil and gas industries Safety cases and safety reports Process safety management Role and purpose of Permit to Work Key principles of safe shift hand over Plant operations and maintenance Safety critical equipment controls Safe storage of hydrocarbons Furnace and boiler operations Fire protection and emergency response Logistics and Transport Operations
Exam	N/A