

Course code	IBSRDL642
Course name	Emergency Response and Evacuation Awareness (OSHA)
Duration	25 Minutes
Target group	Oil & Gas Industry
Prerequisites	No prerequisites are required to sit this course.
Objective	LO1: Explain the required elements of an emergency action plan LO2: Identify basic and specific response procedures LO3: Explain how to respond to specific emergencies LO4: Describe evacuation and abandonment procedures LO5: Identify the 7 Steps to Survival
Contents	The Occupational Safety and Health Administration is an agency of the United States Department of Labour. In this course you will learn about emergency response and evacuations. You will be able to explain the elements of an emergency action plan and identify basic and specific response procedures. You will be able to explain how to respond to specific emergencies and describe evacuation and abandonment procedures. You will also be able to identify the 7 Steps of Survival.
Exam	The assessment is taken during the course and is within the expected duration.